

Busy Teacher Resources

January 10, 2005

e-Missions

The screenshot shows a web interface for an e-Mission. On the left, there's a header for "OPERATION MONTSERRAT" with a plus sign icon. Below it are three images: a volcanic eruption, a text box that says "A GIANT AWAKENS. A MONSTER APPROACHES. THOUSANDS OF LIVES DEPEND ON YOU!", and a hurricane. Below the images is a "WELCOME" section with a paragraph of text. On the right side, there's a vertical menu with buttons for "MISSION BRIEFING", "HOW TO APPLY", "T-MINUS 3 WEEKS", "T-MINUS 2 WEEKS", "T-MINUS 1 WEEK", "MISSION PREP", "MISSION", and "POST-MISSION".

Privacy Statement and Copyright © 1998-2003 by Wheeling Jesuit University / Challenger Learning Center®. All Rights Reserved.

<http://www.emissionhq.com/>

History Detectives is devoted to solving historical mysteries, searching out the true facts (and falsehoods) behind local folklore, family legends and interesting objects. For Middle School.

<http://www.pbs.org/opb/historydetectives/index.html>

From all the schools in your country, your school alone has been selected by the world famous meteorological institution Weather First International to conduct an investigation and report on local and world weather and climate. To complete your assignment, you will have at your disposal detailed instructions that describe how to create weather instruments, how to access the Internet to locate real-time weather information from around the world, and this online educational project to guide you along. (For upper elementary and middle school—ages 11-18.)

<http://www.k12science.org/curriculum/weatherproj2/en/>