

Busy Teacher Resources

January 29, 2007

BRRRRRRR . . . Visiting the Poles

Site includes tips and ideas for teachers, audio from NASA scientists and many incredible photos of auroras.

http://www.exploratorium.edu/learning\_studio/auroras/

SnowCrystals.com

Includes “snowflake physics”, magnified photos of intricate snowflakes and growing your own snow crystals (great for grades 3-8).

<http://www.its.caltech.edu/~atomic/snowcrystals/>

Visit both poles on the research ice breaker Polarstern (Alfred Wegener Institute). See video, photos, time-lapsed days, and scientist’s answers to kid’s most frequently asked questions. http://www.awi.de/NM\_WebCam

Antarctic Ice Fish