

Busy Teacher Resources

April 24, 2006

Arbor Day

This area of the Web site educates and inspires young people and adults to understand, plant, and care for trees to build a better future. Includes materials and downloads for teachers and educators.

<http://www.arborday.org/kids/index.cfm>

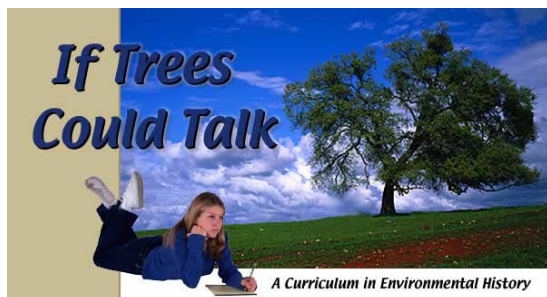

LEAF connects formal and non-formal educators with quality forestry lessons, education materials and resources.

<http://www.uwsp.edu/cnr/leaf/index.htm>

The Living Forest

Developed for elementary school children, check out these series of educational games on the West Coast Forest Theme.

<http://schoolcentral.com/Willoughby4/Forest/ForestHome.html>

This is an 8-module, middle school curriculum for social studies activities. The centerpiece of each module is a compilation of primary resources--documents, maps, newspaper articles, oral histories or photographs--from which students will be asked to gather, examine, and analyze information, and synthesize insights.

<http://www.lib.duke.edu/forest/Education/Curriculum/>